FATHER KEN'S KORNER

Heart to Heart Talks

The late great Bl. John Cardinal Henry Newman, although he was raised and ordained originally in the Church of England, became a Roman Catholic at the age of 44 after leaving his teaching post at Oxford University. He was ordained a Catholic priest in 1847 and was eventually raised to the level of Cardinal in 1879. As a bishop he designed his own coat of arms and motto. The coat of arms consisted of a gold field covered with three red hearts; two above and one below, separated by a red squiggly line jutting up three times and down twice. The motto on the coat of arms was "Cor ad cor Loquitur" which translates as "heart to heart talk" or "heart to heart conversation". The three upward jutting lines on the coat of arms were for the Most Holy Trinity and the two downward jutting ones were for the divinity and humanity of Jesus Christ, who was represented by the lower heart on the coat of arms. Overall, Bl. John envisioned prayer as a heart to heart conversation that each of us is called to develop with God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit and that God, in turn, desires to also have this heart to heart conversation with each of us. We speak to God from the heart. We listen and receive His answer in our heart. It is simple but sincere.

I thought of this image recently as we celebrated our parish titular feast on Friday, June 12th: the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. It was closely followed by the Feast of the Immaculate Heart of Mary on Saturday, June 13th. I mentioned, at the time, that I recently experienced the Sacred Heart through the eyes of a child seeing the artistic image for the first time. The child made two important elementary observations in a way that was filled with a child's wonder. First the child, who was two or three years old, said, "I can see his heart!" The child really had no idea who "he" was in the picture but somehow knew that this should not be possible. Then, this statement was quickly followed by another that was equally profound in a childlike way. "He has an owie!" the child observed after noticing that the heart was ringing in a crown of thorns. In my view, the child instinctively picked up on the two most important ideas of this image. Jesus lived his life in a way that put his heart on display for all to see and he loved us with a sacrificial love. It is a blueprint for each of us, as Christian disciples, to follow. And the first Christian disciple of all was Mary. She is not only the first Christian but is also considered the type of the Church and for all the faithful. We are told in Matthew 6:21 that "where your treasure is, there your heart is also". Mary's Immaculate Heart is a perfect image of that passage. The attitude of her heart was always, "Be it done to me according to your will". This was not just true of the Annunciation but it also summed up her entire life. Her heart was so open to God that it took on the same qualities as the heart of her son Jesus. Bl. Newman's motto "Cor ad cor loquitur" most especially speaks to the loving relationship shared between Jesus and Mary. If we are wise we will try to follow in our spiritual mother's footsteps. Have a heart to heart conversation with God every day in prayer and, little by little, our hearts will also be transformed.

WE NEED MORE EUCHARISTIC MINISTERS AND LECTORS

The 5:30 Vigil and Noon Masses are especially short on lectors right now, but all Masses could benefit from more lectors. We need your gift for proclaiming the Word! To learn more about becoming a lector, please contact Ann Brophy.

Also, we are in great need of more Eucharistic Ministers at all the Masses. Prayerfully consider that the Holy Spirit may be calling you to this ministry, and please say "yes." Just ask any Eucharistic minister: this simple ministry overflows with joy and gladness. You can do it.

Please contact Ann Brophy at the parish office or abrophy@shcs.org. You could also pick up a "Become a Liturgical Minister" brochure at one of the church doors, fill it out, and put it into the collection basket, leave it at the sacristy, or drop it by the parish office. Thank you!

PLANTING THE SEEDS

As we honor fathers this Sunday, perhaps you can think of someone who longs to have a closer relationship with our heavenly Father. Can you plant the seeds of hope as you speak of our Father's loving care, His everlasting promises? Ask about the RCIA Inquiry Sessions for those who are not baptized, are of other faiths, or are baptized Catholic adults who have not received First Communion and/or Confirmation. Call Ann Brophy, Pastoral Associate, at the office or abrophy@shcs.org for information. Thank you!

FAMILY VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

Family Vacation Bible School? Isn't VBS just for kids?

Over the last few years it has become very difficult to find VBS volunteers, both adults and teens. Many of our volunteers work during the day and many of the tweens and teens needed are involved in Summer sports teams or camps.

Our solution is to have a cross-generational Bible school in the evenings so as many people as possible could be involved as volunteers and participants.

We also wanted to get a sense of Family in our church. We are God's family and so if you come as a family VBS can build those relationships and allow for the whole family to be involved in our VBS fun.

So instead of just sending your kids to VBS each day the whole family comes in the evening!! If you are looking for some God centered family fun this summer sign your family up for VBS! Or volunteer? There are lots of fun ways everyone can be involved.

Our Sacred Heart Family VBS is at the end of August. August 24th through 27th.
